OUTCRY! Stop Nuclear War!

The world is facing a possible nuclear war! Considering the worldwide stockpile of nuclear, biological and chemical weapons of mass destruction, such a war bears an incalculable risk and is a threat to entire mankind.

The death of millions of people and the contamination of our entire planet for generations has become a real threat. In this situation, we, the people of the world, are putting everything aside that separates us in order to commit to one common goal: The prevention of a nuclear war and the survival of mankind.

We, people of different countries, religions and races are raising our voice together: We call on the nuclear powers and all other governments, to immediately, publicly and clearly distance themselves from any nuclear attack or any other war of aggression!

I support the call "Stop Nuclear War!" and will share it with others:
